Six Years In Army, 276 Points

With the grand total of 276 points from nearly six years in service, Tech. Sgt. Harry Brundidge, III, jumped ashore at Boston from the gangplank of the Navy transport Admiral Mayo and punctured completely the reports of his "death" as he embraced his father, above, Harry T. Brundidge, II, associate editor of Cosmopolitan and St. Louis newspaperman. A prisoner of the Germans for two years, Sgt. Brundidge flew 78 missions with the R. A. F. before transferring to the A. A. F. He was flying a mission over France when his B-17 was shot down and it was assumed that one of the bodies—mutilated beyond recognition—was his.

Peace Vs. Preparedness

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

STARS AND STRIPES in Paris, in an imaginary letter from a dead soldier, takes General Patton to task for telling a group of children they will be the soldiers of the next war.

General Eisenhower has added his voice to those who are advocating peace-time military training in the United States.

Russia, expected to announce relaxation of war-time living restrictions, at the same accelerates military training and says, "the war in Europe is over but the military and political schooling and the training of fighting reserves does not cease for a moment."

"It's no fun to die," says the Stars and Stripes letter. "It's particularly no fun when the general you followed turns right around to your homefolks a few weeks later and tells them you died in vain.... Leave the peace to those who are working their hearts out to make it stick. Leave them alone—for a little while anyway. And for God's sake stay out of my little brother's Sunday school class. He still thinks I died to make a better world for him."

We'll, the soldier didn't die in vain, and the generals are not intending to say he did.

At San Francisco, for the first time in history, all of the world's

7,500 ATTEND
ARMY COMBAT
EXHIBIT HEREWitness Thrilling "Here's Your Infantry" Show
At Reilly Stadium

The mighty Seventh War Loan drive received an effective shot in the arm at Reilly stadium last night as some 7,500 people witnessed a dramatic performance of "Here's Your Infantry," the Armed Ground Forces' presentation of the story of the infantry with a terse "Buy Bonds" message.

The message did not fall on deaf ears, and the show was not without effect, for a total of $2,775 in E bonds was purchased at the booth before and after the performance. Hundreds had bought bonds beforehand to obtain reserved seats.

Before the performance people milled around the trucks and the equipment and did a lot of bazooka shooting and machine gun firing at $50 and $100 bond prices.

Story of the Infantryman

Depicting the combat duties and assignments of United States infantrymen, the spectacle was complete to the "in" degree. Spectators were shown and told just what and how much an infantryman, combat patrol and even a single man, takes into battle with him.

Each item was labeled in clear, concise terms as to its use, price and its life-saving and enemy-destroying classification.

Equipment, from the infantryman's helmet, pack, shoes, rifle and shaving set right on up to a bayonet, automatic rifle, light and heavy infantry machine gun, 60 mm. and 81 mm. mortars, bazooka and a flame thrower, was displayed and put into action.

Salemen and visitors—War Bond buyers one and all—were told and shown just what their money goes for in this war.

Pillbox Assault Dramatic

The most dramatic phase of the one-hour show—the assault on a Jap pillbox—was carried out with a realism that defied betterment. That was due directly to one factor: All of the 37 participants in the actual combat demonstration are true "blood and guts" boys who walk to war and fight it with their hands.

As the narrator, Sgt. Harry Luken, a former Louisville, Ky., radio announcer, so aptly expressed it.

In all, the 37 participants in the combat demonstration have a total of 1,190 months of overseas battle service under their belts. All are

Geiger To Direct
Marines In Pacific

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Appointment of Lt. Gen. Roy S. Geiger as commanding general of the Pacific Fleet Marine force was announced today.

Geiger, a veteran leader of Pacific amphibious campaigns, took over command of American forces on Okinawa this week after Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., was killed.

Announcement of his new command, succeeding Lt. Gen. Holland N. Smith, was made by Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, commandant of the Marine Corps.

Gen. Smith will head the Marine training and replacement command in San Diego, Calif., replacing Maj. Gen. Charles F. B. Price, who will go on the retired list.

ACCIDENT VICTIM
WINS $20,000 SUIT

LISBON, June 22.—Lee Broadbent, 15, of East Liverpool, was awarded $20,000 damages by a jury yesterday for injuries suffered when he was thrown from the rear of a car driven by Heber Thompson, July 21, 1944, on Route 7.

Broadbent, through his father, charged that Thompson, of East Liverpool, had picked up he and a friend on Route 7 a year ago, allowing them to ride on the rear section and fender of his coupe and had driven with obvious recklessness despite protests and warning from the two youths, who said they pounded and beat the car in attempts to make the driver slow down.

Broadbent was thrown from the car as Thompson rounded a curve and suffered a skull fracture and serious back injury.

A jury of 10 women and two men heard the case.

City To Begin
Late Cleanup
Next Monday

Service Director Frank K. Wilson announced today that the annual city cleanup will begin Monday morning and will continue through next week until the entire city is covered.

The collection will commence at the eastern city limits on E. State st. and will proceed on all the intersecting streets, north and south to Lincoln ave.

The pickups will continue west on State st. until the remaining sections are covered in the western half of the city.

All refuse must be placed in containers on the curb, Wilson said, and he added that no back calls will be made.

The city will collect tin cans and ordinary household trash such as discarded furniture, mattresses, springs, etc., but such rubbish as ashes, brush and the like will not be picked up, Wilson said.

ARMY SUPPLY
BILL OFFEREDMake 38 Billion Request
With Promise to Speed
Victory Over Japan

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A $38,500,283,951 War department supply bill went to the house floor today with an Army promise to speed victory over Japan by "an overwhelming application of force."

Its approval by the appropriations committee accompanied publication of three weeks of testimony by high Army officials who forecast devastation for Japan more awful than that which battered the Nazis to their knees.

Testimony of Generals of the Army George C. Marshall, chief of staff, and H. H. Arnold, head of the Air Forces, disclosed plans to use 1,000 B-29s daily in the Pacific war and to drop 2,700,000 tons of bombs in the Far East in the fiscal year starting July 1. That figure compares, Marshall said, with 1,555,000 tons rained upon Europe from 1942 to 1945.

Budget Estimate Cut

The funds voted by the committee represented a cut of $586,810,000 from budget estimates and a reduction of $9,692,492,313 from money made available to the Army during the current fiscal year.

Of the total, $21,376,283,400 represents new appropriations, $8,885,501,501 is made available from previous appropriations, and $8,238,501,500 represents recoveries due to cancellations or reductions of obligations approved for prior years.

The committee cited this testimony from Gen. Marshall:

"It would be a costly mistake, a hideous injustice to our men in the Pacific, to relax now in optimistic estimates of the situation. The LAKEVILLE, June 22.—The Northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist church opposes compulsory postwar military training.

In a resolution unanimously adopted yesterday, the conference resolved: "We, the members of the Northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist church hereby go on record as opposed to adoption of any compulsory peacetime military training and in accord with the general conference of 1944 request that Congress defer action until after the war."

The Rev. Harold Ewing of Canton told the conference the improvement of youth conduct and citizenship was one of the greatest challenges facing the church.

Eisenhower Is Casualty At His Homecoming In Abilene

(By Associated Press)

ABILENE, Kan., June 22.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who had many narrow escapes from death or injury through three years of warfare, turned up a casualty on his greatest day—E-day and his homecoming.

The general was limping noticeably as the result of a fall last night on the Topeka railroad platform, where he got off to greet a group of Purple Heart soldiers.

The train started off without him, and as the general started to run for it he fell and injured his leg.

The train was halted for several minutes while the general was helped aboard and the injury treated.

Today the Allied commander rode at the head of his home town's parade. When his car reached the Lamer hotel he left it

Legion's 'Service School' For Veterans Will Open June 26

A "service school" for the purpose of instructing any persons interested in state and federal laws relating to the rights, benefits and privileges of war veterans and their dependents, will be held in Lisbon June 26, July 3 and 10.

This school, opening at 8 p. m. in the Legion home in Lisbon, is sponsored by the eight posts of the

Host of Speakers

Some of the speakers at these meetings will be Gen. Wm. L. Merrill, manager of the Veterans Administration at Brecksville; John M. Thorp and C. E. Christopher, managers of the Veterans Administration offices at Youngstown and Steubenville, respectively; Maj. L. W. Argetinger, chief of re-employment of the Ohio Selective Service; Orin Schmitz, Veterans Employment representative for the War Manpower Commission of Ohio; Don W. Schoeppe, chairman of the State Rehabilitation division of the American Legion; and Otto H. Lehman, state service officer for the American Legion at the Brecksville office of the Veterans Administration.

Motion pictures not available to the general public will be shown.

The county coordinating committee to be formed at the final session of the school will be composed of one or two hundred persons who will advise veterans where information may be found on the exact phase of the law they are interested in, and will in no way conflict with existing local organizations.

It will have semi-official standing since an amendment to the Selective Service and Training act required the establishment of a veterans personnel division, part of whose duties would be the establishment of liaison and coordination between the government agencies, the veterans and the public.

Yanks Ferret
Out Enemy's Sniper Nests

(By Associated Press)

GUAM, June 22.—American mop-up patrols began the grueling job today of annihilating Japanese sniper nests on Okinawa before the next big Allied invasion is staged from the newly-won island base, 325 miles south of Japan.

Tokyo radio reported Premier Kantaro Suzuki warned his cabinet an invasion of Japan was impending and said the people of Kyushu, home island nearest Okinawa, were prepared for an invasion, convinced "the enemy will certainly land" there.

Pacific fleet headquarters made no bones about the fact Okinawa has become a forward staging base from which bomber and fighter planes can cover assault waves striking at Japan or China, or both. An official memorandum from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' headquarters said it is also an American naval anchorage, in the center of waters formerly patrolled by the Mikado's Imperial fleet.

BLAST JAPANKure Naval Base, Five Aircraft Factories Are Set Afire

(By Associated Press)

GUAM, June 22.—Four hundred fifty B-29s today attacked Japan's last large naval arsenal and five big aircraft factories with 3,000 tons of demolition bombs in a precision raid.

Seven other small industrial targets were fire-raided Monday and Wednesday.

Japan's two largest arsenals, Osaka and Hiro, previously were virtually destroyed. The Kure plant, blasted today, manufactured guns, projectiles, fuses, propellants and torpedoes.

The other five targets were the Mitsubishi and Kawasaki aircraft plants at Kakamigahara, 20 miles north of Nagoya; Kawasaki aircraft plant at Himeji and the Kawasaki aircraft plant at Akashi, both in the Kobe area, and the Mitsubishi-Mishima aircraft factory at Tamashima, 90 miles west of Kobe.

Claim 26 Shot Down

A Japanese communiqué claimed 26 of the giant raiders were shot down or damaged.

B-29s have destroyed or damaged 112 square miles of Japanese urban industrial areas, 21st Bomber command headquarters announced while today's raids were in progress.

Osaka, Japan's second largest city and its suburbs, Amagasaki, suffered 2.31 square miles of new damage in a June 15 fire raid, increasing total damaged areas there to 16.75 square miles.

Incendiary bombs, aimed at hundreds of small Japanese home industries, on that raid virtually wiped out the Sumitomo Kanazaki propeller plant.

Large targets damaged included the Osaka arsenal, Mitsubishi copper refinery, Fukuda Light Airplane Co. Miraguchi gear works, Osaka railroad station, and Furukawa Electric Co.

Three of these smaller cities—Chizuka, Yokkaichi and Toyohashi—each was more than 50 per cent destroyed in incendiary raids Monday and Wednesday.

Clean-up squads of Marines and infantrymen hunted over the charred hills of southern Okinawa with flame throwers, rifles and demolition charges, to add to the 90,401 enemy dead, Japanese helped by mass suicides in their caves, or drowning in the surf. The air was permeated with the stench of death.

Other Yanks, sent out to keep U. S. casualties from mounting too far above the record figure of 36,588, pleaded through tankborne loudspeakers for Nipponese to surrender. Four thousand already have.

Greatest Prize to Date

All figures—Japanese dead, American casualties, Nipponese prisoners—were records for any islands taken in the drive which has carried Admiral Nimitz' forces from Pearl Harbor to the doorstep of Japan. And Okinawa was the greatest prize.

Where Do They Get Them?

With cigar smokers in Salem spending many precious minutes standing in line to get only one package at a time, and many people literally going around with their tongues hanging out for a smoke, one wonders just how and why a carnival can be so well supplied that it can offer packages and cartons as prizes in gambling concessions.

Whether or not the outfit now showing near Salem's city limits brought the prizes with them is beside the point. The fact that they are available to a carnival in such quantities that they can be given as a come-one is trying enough.

The OPA recently forbade the offering of cigars as prizes on punchboards. Would the OPA also be interested in checking prizes offered at a carnival?

A Full Life In Munich

Like the now famous goldfish that Eddy Gilmore found swimming in a pool of Berlin's bomb-blasted chancellery, there has come swimming out of another bomb-blasted German city's past a simple and accidental reminder of its departed glories.

It is a handsomely printed booklet describing the advantages of visiting Munich during the summer Olympic games in 1936. Those were the games in which Jesse Owens, Cornelius Johnson, Earl Meadows, Ken Carpenter, Platt Adams, Archie Williams and John Woodruff outran, outjumped, out-threw and in general outdid the pick of the world's athletes.

In 1936, Munich offered visitors a full program of opera, art exhibits, drama, horse shows, military reviews, bicycle, automobile and horse racing. There were special events in chess, shooting, theatricals and handicraft. Excursions had been arranged to all nearby points of interest. And over it all hung the ominous brown cloud of National Socialism.

It was only apparent then, but obvious now, nine years later, that in 1936 Hitlerism sought to use the Olympic games to promote the gospel of the super-state and the super-race. While the games themselves were to be a setback, because few Germans were able to win, the occasion of thousands of visitors was exploited heavily to create a favorable impression for the Nazi party. Munich, the party's birthplace, became a bejeweled pawn in the great game Germany's political gangsters had begun.

The Germans themselves, having seen the ruins, know best the price they paid for the notion that their great buildings and public spectacles could compensate for the corruption that went with them.

The Associated Press Decision

The long-awaited Supreme court ruling in the Associated Press case is hard to figure out. Lawyers may see through its implications clearly, but there are no hard-and-fast conclusions anyone else can jump at safely.

The court's ruling is being called a victory for the Department of Justice and a defeat for the Associated Press, but that seems to be putting it too strongly. Certainly it is putting it too strongly to claim it is a victory for freedom of the press because the government was upheld in its claimed right to interfere in the operation of Associated Press membership rules.

If the Supreme court's ruling were to become an entering wedge for further government interference, it would be a defeat for freedom of the press. But that is less a matter of legality than of official attitude. The Association Press case was a by-product of a policy once described by a prominent New Dealer as "hitting 'em in the jugular". Apparently, that sort of thing is going out of style in Washington.

Threats to freedom—all kinds of freedom, including freedom of the press—must be dealt with when and where they arise. The Associated Press case contained possibilities of danger. They were set forth clearly by the defendants. Their misgivings, however, were not considered sufficiently important by the jurists either in the district court or the Supreme court to compel a majority to uphold the defendant's argument.

The courts themselves were split in both decisions, however. The minority may prove to be right, if the majority's findings are made the excuse for further attempts to assume a right of government to restrict the operation of the press or any of its component parts. The Bill of Rights specifically guarantees to the people that the freedom of the press shall not be abridged by any law.

Seizing The Nettle

A decision on the legality of Spain's Franco government evidently is in the making at San Francisco. Obviously, vastly more than Franco's position is at stake.

His government has been recognized by all the major powers, except Russia. Mexico, among the lesser powers, and apparently inspired by pro-Russian feeling, has taken the lead in a movement to bar the Franco government from future membership—a plain warning that Spain will not be admitted to membership in the projected world organization until it throws out a regime that came to power with Axis assistance. The same rule, according to the unanimous vote of a conference commission at San Francisco, would apply to all governments established with the military aid of the Axis. The United States is reported in agreement with this proposed policy.

The irony of the situation is that the Franco regime came to power not only with Axis military assistance, but with the tacit consent of Great Britain and France and, to a lesser extent, the consent of the United States. This government's neutrality policy, beginning in 1937, barred shipment of arms to either side in Spain. Sumner Welles has commented: "No legal government resisting rebellion had ever before been deprived of the right to import arms for its own defense."

Ultimately, the legitimacy of the Franco government must be decided. It will be better to seize the nettle now than to wait until it has grown any larger or sharper.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, June 23.

A DAY of uncommon events or experiences is the presage made from the predominant lunar and mutual aspects. There is prospect of public, community, political or diplomatic honor, with recognition of exceptional personality, or in fulfillment of dramatic, romantic ideals, or as reward for unique talents or achievements. There may be celebrations or "parties" but it would be well to keep within bounds and observe public codes.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of the extraordinary, unique or sensational, possibly in connection with recognition or token of preferment in public, political, diplomatic or fraternal service. There may be exciting festivities or celebrations, but these should be enjoyed with conventional and temperate conduct, lest running counter to rules and regulations or public interest, exact unhappy penalties. Personality, charm, exceptional talents should invite fitting recognition.

A child born on this day may possess many personal charms, talents and claims to public or fraternal preferment. Its peculiarly unique or intuitive urges might lead to over-emotional situations unless well-regulated.

What's The Score?

Reports from the southwest say that grain elevators are filled and part of the new wheat crop is being dumped because of lack of transportation from elevator to miller.

The Office of Defense Transportation says that the railroads are carrying more grain now than at the comparable period last year, and that the situation is well in hand.

Somebody seems to be wrong, and everybody seems to be confused. And this isn't the first instance on the wartime food record when those concerned didn't know what the score was.

Perhaps the score will be kept better when Rep. Clinton Anderson assumes his new double job of Secretary of Agriculture and War Food Administrator. The job merger should help. And it will help more if Mr. Anderson can manage to maintain a closer liaison with the various agencies who seem to be going their separate ways in trying to solve the increasingly perplexing problem of getting food out of the fields and off the range and onto the wartime table.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

The Symptoms of Toxemia

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

DURING the childbearing time a disorder known as toxemia or poisoning may develop. However, with proper treatment, the dangers of this condition can be greatly reduced, according to Dr. Norman P. Miller of the University of Michigan.

The early symptoms of toxemia consist of an increase in the blood pressure, an excessive gain in weight, swelling of the tissues due to fluids in them, and albumin in the urine. If the condition continues and becomes more severe, there may be symptoms affecting the eyes. The arteries over the back part of the eyeball or retina become narrowed and there are hemorrhages from these arteries.

Eye Examination
An examination of the eye with an instrument known as an ophthalmoscope reveals these conditions to the doctor, and since they are warnings of the more serious or late stage of toxemia in which convulsions occur, he can take steps to check the condition.

The treatment during this time includes complete rest in bed, a lessening of the amount of salt in the diet, the giving of ammonium chloride and plenty of fluids. Doctor Miller thinks that the proper diet would be one which leaves equal amounts of acid and alkaline ash plus other foods which yield a neutral ash.

Swelling Tissues
When there is swelling of the tissues due to fluid in them, ammonium chloride in capsules is given three times a day with or after meals. If no improvement occurs after a week or ten days of this treatment, it may become necessary to bring about early delivery of the baby in order to preserve the mother's health. If convulsions should develop, they may be controlled with certain anesthetics which can be administered.

Wounded Actress Hopes To Be Able to Walk Again

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 22. — Six months ago, doctors said Susan Peters couldn't live. Today, though paralyzed from the waist down, she is taking her first faltering steps.

The actress accidentally shot herself last New Year's day while on a hunting trip.

When I saw her, she was sitting in the sunshine in front of her Beverly Hills apartment.

Will she ever act again?
"Why, of course," she told me. "Just let them try and stop me. I'd like to do some radio work for a while. Then I'll go back to the movies. Some day I'll send you my traces as a present."

PREPAREDNESS BEST POLICY, PATTON SAYS

HAMILTON, Mass., June 22.—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., asserted today he thought it was "stupid to run the risk of not being prepared for another war."

The commander of the Third army, commenting on an imaginary letter from "One of the Dead" in Stars and Stripes, U. S. Army newspaper, which criticized him for telling children of a Sunday school class that they would be the soldiers and nurses of the next war declared:

"Having been through two world wars and having experienced the anguish of commanding men who were wounded or killed due to lack of training, I think that it is stupid to run the risk of not being adequately prepared for another war because you do not stop fires by abolishing the fire department."

"The best way to maintain peace which naturally I want more than anyone else, having seen how bad war is, is to be ready for war."

Vet Decides To Get That Kiss-And Does

(By Associated Press)

BOSTON, June 22.—When the WACS aboard a welcoming tug began shouting "Come on over, come and get it—a kiss," to returning soldiers, Staff Sgt. Tommy Carpenter, 24, took them literally today.

He went down the transport hawser hand-in-hand, reached the deck of an accompanying tug, doffed his shoes and plunged into the harbor.

The tides began carrying him away from the welcoming boat. Someone threw a life preserver and Tommy was pulled aboard the WACS' boat.

He stumbled into the arms of pretty Mary Delage of Southbridge, a WAC private. She gave him a resounding smack. Then the others almost smothered Tommy while his jealous fellow-soldiers looked on.

Tommy, who went overseas in 1942, hails from Hamburg, Ark.

"That's what I call a reception," shouted Tommy when he caught his breath.

Tommy was one of 356 members of the Second Armed division who returned aboard the SS Howard Kelly.

eligible for discharges after their present War Bond tour is over July 4. Reilly field was transformed into a mock-jungle and was completely mined with T-N-T charges, well camouflaged by more than two loads of freshly-cut brush.

The second phase of the show, the pillbox assault, had the 37 man patrol encountering and destroying Jap snipers, two machine gun nests and finally the large pillbox, which was attacked by riflemen, blasted by two charges from the bazooka and razed with the flame throwers, which produce 1,800 degrees of heat.

Band Music Enjoyed

The 45th Army Service Forces band from Nichols General hospital, Louisville, Ky., provided music before and during the show. It was directed by Tech. Sergt. Wilford Adler.

The narrator, who won the verbal plaudits of all the audience, waded effectively through some 45 pages of script in describing and commenting on the happenings.

The Army unit was well pleased with the reception given it by Salem War Loan officials and Salemites in general. Sincere thanks went out from the unit commander, Lieut. Robert J. Bohn, and his assistant, Lieut. Robert Sindorf.

They expressed appreciation to County Co-Chairmen E. M. Stephenson of Salem and Francis White of East Liverpool. City Chairman R. S. McCulloch of Salem, and Pat O'Farrell of East Liverpool.

Their thanks also went to Salem, Alliance and East Liverpool police and auxiliaries, to the Salem fire department and its auxiliary, and to the Salem Red Cross women, who fed them, as well as to Joe Kelley, who had charge of their housing at the Memorial building.

American Legion representatives from all over the county, Veterans of Foreign Wars and several police and special policemen, also helped handle the crowd.

Execution Delayed

ELYRIA, June 22.—A stay of execution for Ralph Brown, 32, Lorain shipyard worker convicted in April of killing his sweetheart, Miss Helen Katonak of Lorain, was ordered here today by the ninth district court of appeals.

Brown, who was sentenced to die in the electric chair Aug. 3, appealed the sentence. The stay was ordered so that the court could consider the appeal.

A five-to-four decision acquitted the Bundsmen, who were under sentences of five years each after trial in New York. Court said evidence was insufficient. (International)

Flies Can Go Higher With New 'Strato-Suit'

AKRON, June 22.—Development of a new flexible, pressurized "strato-suit" enabling fliers to penetrate 15 miles into the stratosphere was disclosed today.

Perfecting by the B. F. Goodrich Co. under guidance of the Army Air Forces, the experimental costume has proved practical in pressure-chamber tests equivalent to 80,000 feet, above the earth's surface.

Company officials said the suit can be donned in two minutes, provides oxygen for breathing, microphones and earphones for communication and electricity for heated underwear.

STRIDES SPREAD IN OHIO PLANTS

(By Associated Press)

Federal seizure of the Idle Good-year Tire & Rubber Co. at Akron threatened today after a local CIO-United Rubber Workers official answered the National War Labor board's back-to-work order by declaring his union never had accepted a no-strike pledge.

As the walkout of 16,700 workers extended the country's largest strike into its seventh day, Goodyear local president, C. V. Wheeler, in a telegram to the NLRB, declared, "this is a case of government machinery totally failing to meet the situation."

"Goodyear local No. 2 tabled the no-strike pledge when it was referred to local for ratification," Wheeler said, "and this is not a case of the willingness or unwillingness of local officers to end the strike."

The fifth regional WLB had at least 60 days of notice of impending crisis, but that agency gave no assistance.

Other Strikes Reported
Ohio's troubled labor front became more turbulent elsewhere in the state as workers at the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. of Toledo and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. of Mount Vernon joined last night in a strike of 15,000 CIO-Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers employed by the companies in several states in a controversy over contract demands.

The War Today

great powers, all its dominant forces, are arrayed for peace. The flaws in the United Nations charter are prominent. To some they are disheartening. But it still represents the greatest step yet taken toward universal security. It does provide machinery by which the nations can have peace if they will do so.

It represents something worth fighting for.

But the nations have not yet said that war will no longer be permitted. They have not agreed that their collective strength will be applied automatically against any one of them which first resorts to force. Local communities have established constabularies so that each law-abiding home no longer needs a rifle behind the door or a pistol in the bureau drawer. The world, as yet, has no such constabularies. Pending that, the generals who are hired and trained to look after the security of their countries are not necessarily out of step because they seek immediate insurance. They seek to preserve the step forward which the soldier has taken while civilian arrangements catch up.

TRUMAN WILL MAKE MT. RANIER VISIT
(By Associated Press)

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 22.—President Truman, with nothing official to do until Monday, resumed the role of a sightseer again today.

Having tried his hand at salmon fishing, with no great success, he decided to take another automobile tour, this time to snow-capped Mount Rainier.

He and his official party, including Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, set 10 a. m. (PWT) as the departing hour and did not plan to return until 5 p. m.

After a press conference yesterday, the President went on a nine hour tour up Puget sound with Wallgren. They travelled in the U.S.S. Brant, then got out in a rowboat only to drag in two dogfish. A couple of fishermen in a sympathetic mood gave them a king salmon apiece.

At Columbus, pickets of the local AFL-Hotel Employees council continued to patrol before the Deshler-Wallick hotel in action described by Hotel President L. C. Wallick as "designed to gain union recognition by the management."

Sloan, Secret Service Veteran, Will Retire
WASHINGTON, June 22.—James Sloan, Jr., known to thousands of White House callers from "T. R." to Truman as "Jimmie of the Secret Service," is going to retire July 1.

"I've been around presidents for 32 years," Sloan said today. "I've been thinking about quitting for some time and go back to my home in Danville, Ill."

The stocky little secret service man with inside information you couldn't buy for a million dollars will be 69 in September.

Sloan has helped protect Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding as a nominee, Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman. During the 11 years 1920-31 he was a stock broker and special representative for Owen D. Young, the industrialist.

With District Men In The Service

T/4 Samuel H. Rea, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rea, Salem, arrived at the Presque Isle Army Air field, Me., this week, having flown the North Atlantic division's famed Snowball route from Paris to Presque Isle.

Sgt. Rea returned aboard one of the Snowball Fleets giant C-54 Skymaster planes, which cross the north Atlantic every six minutes, returning Army personnel from the European Mediterranean theaters or operations.

While in the ETO Sgt. Rea served as a radio operator with the 1st Inf. Div. and wears the ETO ribbon with eight stars. Purple Heart, Combat Infantry badge, and Bronze Star for outstanding performance of duty and bravery in enemy territory.

Pfc. John H. Knopp of R. D. 1, Columbiana, has been commended by Maj. Gen. Paul J. Mueller, commanding general of the 81st Infantry "Wildcat" division, for "courageous performance of duty" during military operations against the Japs on Angaur island in the Pacific.

"When your company was subjected to a bombing and strafing attack, a number of your men were badly wounded. Knowing full well that you would be dangerously exposed to and unprotected from combined enemy ground fire and recurrent aerial attack, you nevertheless volunteered to assist in evacuating two of your wounded comrades. This you accomplished successfully, taking them to a position of safety from which they were moved to an aid station."

"It is with pleasure that I commend you for this courageous performance of duty, which was in the best traditions of the military service and reflects great credit on you, your unit and the Wildcat division," Gen. Mueller's commendation said.

Pvt. Knopp is a member of the 81st Infantry division, which last fall wrested the Palau and other western Caroline islands from the Japs.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Knopp, R. D. 5, Salem.

Sgt. William R. Cameron, serving with the 357th Inf. Regt., 90th Inf. Div., in Germany, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman badge for participating in campaigns in Germany. Sgt. Cameron, an assistant squad leader, is the husband of Mrs. Virginia Cameron of 186 E. Wilson st.

Pfc. Frank T. Skovran of Leontia, formerly of Salem, has returned home from Camp Carson, Colo., where he was honorably discharged from the U. S. General hospital. He was in the service 34 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Duber Miller of E. Pershing st. have received word that their son, Richard D. Miller, now stationed in England, has been promoted to Pharmacist's Mate 3-c. His address is: Richard D. Miller, Pfc. M. 3-c. USN, 249, Unit K, APO, New York, N. Y.

Second Lieut. Paul D. Ingledue of R. D. 4, Salem, is a member of the 17th General hospital, a unit of the Peninsular Base section in Italy, important supply and services organization for the Fifth Army and for the Air Corps ground crews, and naval elements in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

Lieut. Ingledue is the husband of Mrs. Helen Lucille Ingledue of Lancaster, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo L. Ingledue, R. D. 4, Salem.

He was graduated from Salem High school in 1927, and attended

Mount Union college, 1928-1931. Before entering military service he was an assistant metallurgist for Quaker City Foundry.

He has been overseas since Sept. 3, 1943. He wears the Good Conduct Medal and two Battle Participation Stars.

Marine Pfc. Robert L. Myers has concluded a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Myers of Aetna st. and has reported to Washington, D. C., for special guard duty at the Navy building.

LEBANON, June 22. — Corp. Frank Layman of the Blackhawk division, who went through the European war without injury, returned home yesterday and suffered the loss of a finger when the gun he was examining accidentally discharged.

House Defeats Action To Kill OPA Extension

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The house today defeated a Republican-sponsored effort to hold OPA's new lease on life to six months instead of one year. The vote was 177 to 125.

The vote for a full year's extension came after Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) appealed to the membership not to destroy OPA. Such action, he said, would bring inflation "in which many people won't have anything to eat and wear."

This is a confusing and destructive amendment," Rayburn declared of the six month limitation proposal.

WE FLEW Without GUNS

This is a true story of the men who fly the "hump"—carrying passengers and cargo over the high Himalayas between India and China. Pilots call it the toughest airline route in the world.

There are two kinds of ice found over the Himalayas in northern China and lower Tibet; the wet, sloppy kind that sloshes over your aircraft and molds itself to the shape of the wings and fuselage before freezing hard; and the "clear" ice that comes at your plane in hard little nuggets, caking together in blocky lumps on the leading edges of the wings and even on the blades of the props. Since it breaks their smooth contour, that caking-up of ice on the wings cuts heavily into their lifting power.

For the first half-hour after we got into the storm we had wet ice, and our only real difficulty was holding our altitude against the increasing weight as the ice accumulated. But our oxygen was getting dangerously low and I had to tell Tsui to take off his mask. We could get along if he passed out, but there had to be someone at the controls. That meant simply that either Fox or I had to keep going; we could feel sorry for Tsui, but that was all.

With Tsui off the oxygen I felt a little easier, but our supply was still short if we were going to have to stay at that altitude for any length of time. And, with every passing minute it seemed more evident that the storm was a wide one with changing stages in the sleet formations—one minute wet ice and the next, minute clear and chunky—but the wind was changing, too.

Tsui was pretty light on his feet when he got up out of his seat, mumbling something about taking a look at the passengers. Concentrating as I was on what was ahead of me, I was still aware of his opening the door into the cabin, and then, after a moment, tottering forward and leaning over my shoulder. He dropped a note into my hand. "Three passengers conscious," it read.

I shot a quick glance at the Chinese boy and I knew that the passengers weren't the only ones taking a beating from the altitude and the lack of oxygen. As Tsui stumbled back to his own nook behind Fox and me I began to feel some real alarm myself.

The oxygen gauge showed that we could hold out about 20 minutes more if Fox and I both continued to draw on the supply. If I cut off Fox, I could hang on twice as long, perhaps even for three-quarters of an hour. On the other hand, if we were on our course the breakthrough was due in less than half an hour.

I leaned over toward Bill and said, "We'll take the stuff in shifts. Two minutes at a time, then switch." I had my own mask off when I spoke; in fact, I had pulled it off before I turned to speak to him. As I turned back to the controls, when I looked at the windshield—only then did I realize what we were really up against.

The glass was turning gray on the inside. My breath, condensing inside the mask until then, was now condensing on the windshield itself. My hands and feet had been getting colder and colder for the last hour; the heating wasn't worth a damn under those conditions; and when I took off that mask it was like blowing warm air into a refrigerator. Even the section of the windshield in front of Fox was coated with my breath before I had fully realized what was happening.

Then we were closed in completely. The ice on the outside of the glass had allowed us at least a dim view of the outside world. Through that ice we had been able to tell the direction in which the sleet was blowing, and thus the direction of the wind. Using this as an index, I had felt a certain amount of confidence that no mountain peak would suddenly loom up in our path; it would have been betrayed by the shifting currents in the sleet.

Now, with that gray film making an impenetrable coating on the inside of the windshield, even daylight failed to show through the glass. I had a nail file in an inside pocket; with numb fingers I opened my jacket and took it out. Signaling Fox to take the controls, I leaned forward and started digging at the frost on the glass.

We were at 20,500 feet when I started clearing the windshield, and when two thin scratches had been dug in the frost I told Fox to let us down to about 18,000 while I kept on digging with the nailfile. The clearing was about one inch deep and three inches wide a couple of minutes later when I suddenly let out a yell that for its sheer terror ought to be legend in those Tibetan hills by now.

We were at 18,500 feet and the overcast had abruptly begun to thin. The next instant we were in the clear and heading directly at a snow-capped mountain peak that rose to a good 19,000 feet. "I've got it!" I shouted, and grabbing the controls I threw that old C-47 into the screamingest chandelle she had ever made. Pull throttle and hard left rudder, with her nose pulled almost straight up, the old crate groaned and her wings strained so violently we could hear the ice cracking at every joint. And then all we could do was wait.

It seemed like a lifetime, but of course it was only a matter of seconds before we knew we had cleared the peak.

Leetonia Churches To Unite On Sunday

LEETONIA, June 22.—Looking toward closer cooperation among the churches of Leetonia, a union meeting of all churches will be held at 8 p. m. Sunday in the chapel of St. Paul's Lutheran church, with Dr. W. H. Thompson, director of religious education for the Ohio Council of Churches, as the speaker.

Dr. Thompson will speak on "Trends in Christian Cooperation." Representatives of all the Leetonia churches have been invited to take part in the service and members of all congregations are invited to attend. The union choir is to furnish special music.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ripley received a telephone message from their son, S. Sgt. Lynn Ripley, who has been a German prisoner, informing them he had arrived in New York.

Judith Ann McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCormick, had her tonsils removed Wednesday.

Miss C. E. Holt, Jr., attended a miscellaneous shower for Miss Claire Chamberlain, of Youngstown, bride-elect of Eugene Early of Salem, at the home of Miss Zelda Stump at East Palestine, Wednesday. Miss Chamberlain was a teacher at the Franklin Square school prior to the consolidation of the Salem township schools.

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK

by Hal Boyle

By SID FEDER

(Substituting For Hal Boyle)
LAKE GARDA, Italy.—Officers of the U. S. 442nd Infantry regiment have organized their own replacement plan for the Japanese-American soldiers returning home after gallant fighting with the regiment in Italy and France.

Through arrangements by a committee of three officers, every Nisei soldier heading home takes with him the names of men already contacted in America who will help him locate in the place and in the industry or profession he wants.

He will have letters of reference from his company, battalion and regimental commanders attesting to his membership in one of the most decorated outfits in the army.

The plan was originated by Lt. William Golf, Evanston, Ill., who serves on the committee.

The system was arranged specifically for soldier victims of exclusion tactics on the Pacific coast—for fellows like A. S. Sagie Nishioka, Hood River, Ore.

The other day Sagie received a note from his mother, who is in the Wyoming relocation camp with his 16-year-old brother and a sister.

Her note began, "I suppose you've heard your name has been taken off the soldier rolls at Hood River."

(The Hood River post No. 22 of the American Legion restored the names of 15 Nisei, including Sagie Nishioka, to its honor roll on last March 6 upon the order of the Legion's national commander. Nishioka was born in Hood River on Feb. 10, 1920, and inducted there on Feb. 1, 1942.)

Sagie is not doing so well just now. He's had 15 blood transfusions and five operations in the last few weeks. A Jerry mortar shell did it to him in the last push of this campaign.

A Hood River friend wrote Sagie not long ago telling him things were too tense and advising him not to come back immediately.

Correspondents Tell of Interesting Island War Happenings

BETWEEN TINIAN AND SAIPAN—It's only about eight minutes by air travel between Tinian and Saipan in the Marianas. But to enjoy the trip, take time and go by ferryboat, in this case an infantry landing craft (LCI).

The shoreline of Tinian drifts by in review, — a beautiful, almost dainty shoreline in comparison with Saipan's rugged hills and crests. But you can still see the old caves in the low coral cliffs where deadly Japanese guns once blazed. Now all that blazes along those green shores is the flowering, massed flame of the coral-pink Poinsettia trees.

It's odd, but you can see more from the ferry than you can from a plane: The blue sky full of fat, glossy clouds — and planes, all kinds of planes, streaking off, coming in; small boats fussing, budgeting around in the water; ships lying at anchor, or coming and going on the endless big and little missions of war.

And on the boat, there's more time to talk to fellow passengers.

Navy Pharmacist Mate Curtis G. Nerison of Montevideo, Minn., has been over on a pass to see his uncle — "spent all day traveling just to spend an hour or so with him."

There are a couple of wounded soldiers, T's Elmer Hage of Wilton Junction, Iowa, is a farm boy who's been 43 months in the army, 38 months in the Pacific. He cut his hand with an axe on Okinawa — cutting poles for an air raid shelter. It's healed now and he's heading back. "I wanted to see the world," he grins, "and now I've seen enough. When I get back home I'm gonna sit in my chair and look at the old farm."

At the B-29 base's outdoor theater on Tinian every bench is crowded. Jake Evans' "Super Bombers" are putting on their newest show, "Power Jive."

It's just that, too, Music hot and music sweet, and a skit or two, all G. I. in talent, humor and sentiment. The band, under 25-year-old maestro Jacob A. Evans of Bowling Green and Glasgow, Ky., is one of the best outfits in the Marianas.

Evans and three other arrangers — Sgt. Lyle Smith of Hollywood, Calif., Sgt. Don Midgely of Salt Lake City, and Pfc. Bob Carter of Millville, N. J. — put the "Super Bomber" touch on most of the selections. Each show features a tune the G. I.'s, by their own requests, want to hear most.

A young chap named Bob Canany of Columbus, Ohio, on the drums gives the ex-professionals a hot race for honors.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS FOR THE ENEMY GUN

CHARLESTON, S. C. — German troops facing him on the Italian front sang to the accordion-playing of Lt. Clifford Yewdall, soldier composer of "Hail To The Infantry," but all his playing got him from his own side of the war was a cussing from his top sergeant.

"The Germans sang to my playing of 'Lili Marlene,' but 10 minutes later I drew box mortar fire and after that was over my first sergeant pushes back his helmet and leans over to me. He says: 'I'd like to wrap that juke box around your neck, Lieutenant, sir!'"

"And that's the appreciation I got from both sides," the Philadelphia officer and farmer Marine recalled, "after giving the Krauts a community sing and bragging to my sergeant that music hath charms!"

NOW WHAT THE HAIL IS GOING ON HERE!

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. — Drilling holes in the bottom of a leaking rowboat to let water out has a parallel among Prince Frederick's victims of a hailstorm. W. W. Duke, editor of the Calvert County Independent, reported that when folks in that Eastern Shore area were bombarded with hailstones which pierced the roofs of their homes, they just drilled holes in their floors to permit drainage.

THE JUDGE MAKES A PLUG FOR JUSTICE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Because the defendant in the Circuit court suit had exclusive control of the stopper in her sink, the judge awarded the plaintiff $280 for damages to a wardrobe.

"Since," the judge decreed, "in the ordinary course of things water faucets do not turn themselves on, fill up sinks and overflow into the walls of buildings . . . the defendant could be guilty of negligence."

"The stopper in the drain prevented the water from flowing down the normal outlet," he stated, holding it was the defendant's duty to turn off her water faucets and unstop her sink.

THEY JUST HAPPENED TO SEE EYE TO EYE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — A rare instance of double trouble was written recently into the records of St. John's Hospital. Two men came in at 3 p. m. for emergency treatment. Both had eye injuries. Both lived in nearby Riverton. Each was 58. Both had the same family name — Rosetti — although one was christened Valentino and the other John. Attaches figured they were twins, but it turned out they were unrelated.

Be Level-Headed In Driving. Motor Club Manager Advises

The brain of the automobile is located just behind and a little above the steering wheel, according to Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club. That's right, Mr. Motorist, it's YOU! Maybe some of your troubles with your car begin right there.

Do you cooperate with the car, with safety and traffic regulations, with other drivers traveling the same roads? Do you handle your car skillfully, calmly and with good judgment? Do you look at your panel instruments, check road conditions and the sound or "feel" of your car? Do you take care of your car and keep it in good operating condition?

If the honest answer to any of these questions is NO, it might be well to stop blaming the other fellow and probe into your own driving habits. The automobile, in spite of all the safety that is built into it, is no safer than the fellow who drives it. To use a phrase that came out in the early days of the automobile — "Don't be the loose nut behind the steering wheel!"

Parcel Post Packages To Philippines Acceptable

Parcel post mailings to the Philippine islands has been resumed the postoffice department announced today. This service, effective at once, includes Leyte, Luzon, Mindoro and Samar.

The service is limited to parcels not exceeding 11 pounds and not more than one parcel per week may be sent by the same sender to the same addressee. Parcels must comply with the export-license requirements of the Foreign Economic administration. Parcel post mail is not insurable.

A recent development in lifeboats is one made of aluminum that weighs less than a wood boat and is only half as heavy as a steel boat. It is resistant to corrosive agents such as salt spray, and because of its lightness when installed on the upper decks of a ship it improves the stability of the ship.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

FRED: "Is it true, Judge, that a war can't be won without the use of war-alcohol . . . the kind the beverage distillers have been producing for the government for over two years?"

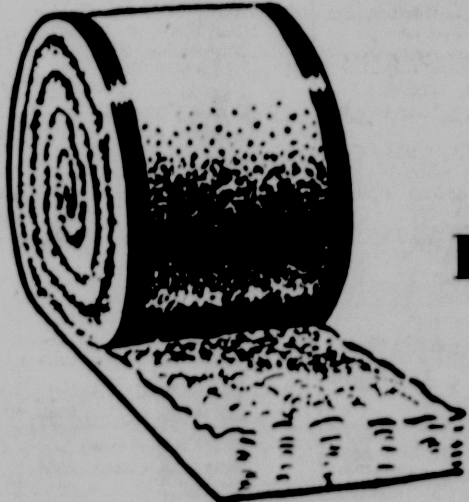

OLD JUDGE: "That's right, Fred. It is a basic ingredient in the smokeless powder used in virtually every firearm from a pistol to a 16-inch gun. And, in addition, it plays a more human role. The medical supplies which our military doctors use to alleviate pain, combat infection, save lives are prepared with war-alcohol."

FRED: "No wonder, then, more and more people are recognizing the great contribution our beverage distillers have made to the winning of the war with their double-duty product."

Dave Ferriss Knocked From Mound By Power Laden Yankees

Rookie Ace Finds Trouble With New Yorkers Again

By JOE REICHLER.

It may be premature to hail Boston's Dave (Boo) Ferriss as another Bob Feller, but the two have at least one thing in common—both have found it difficult to beat the New York Yankees.

Feller, the Van Meter (J.A.) meter, won 106 games for a .665 percentage in six seasons, holding the edge over every other club in the league by wide margins, but he could do no better than an even 14-14 won and lost record against the Yankees.

In battering Ferriss from the mound for the first time in his major league career yesterday, the Yankees defeated the sensational Red Sox rookie for the second consecutive time. The only losses charged against him this year, winner of nine games, at least one from every club, Ferriss had copped his first eight before being stopped by the Bronxites two weeks ago.

A crowd of 15,110 saw the Yankees clout Ferriss for five hits and nine runs before he was removed in the fifth. The Yanks went on to score 13 runs in that frame, just one short of their own record for failures in an inning, and eventually club the Sox 14-4 behind Walt Dubiel.

Overmire Wins
Frank (Stubby) Overmire pitched and batted the first place Detroit Tigers to a 5-1 victory over Cleveland. He spaced seven hits for his fifth triumph and batted in two runs to defeat Jim Bagby.

Brooklyn's Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 9-2. The victory, the first for Cy Buker, making his major league debut, increased the Brooks' first place lead to three and one-half games.

Chicago's Cubs moved into second place by downing Pittsburgh 5-4 for their fifth straight victory.

The St. Louis Cardinals remained four percentage points behind the Cubs, a half-game ahead of the fourth place Pirates, with a 4-0 shutout over Cincinnati. Blix Donnelly scattered five Redleg hits.

Washington and the Athletics were scoreless when rain ended the contest in the last half of the fourth inning. The Braves and Giants in the National League and the White Sox and Browns in the American were not scheduled.

HOPES FOR SUBWAY SERIES IS BECOMING EVEN MORE SLIGHT

BY AL VERMEER
NEW YORK—Joe McCarthy and Mel Ott sit glumly in their dugouts and New York fans mumble with alarm as their dreams of a "subway world series" slowly fall into tatters. To be sure, the Yankees and Giants will remain in the thick fighting. But there are unmistakable signs of collapse on both sides.

One month ago when the ODT hinted there would be no fall classic unless both flag winners came from the same city, the Yankees and Giants figured they had a happy solution to the problem. Today they are not so sure.

The Giants, who threatened all records with their amazing start, have exploded with a thud which shakes the durable old Polo Grounds. People in Boston, watching the Braves smear the New Yorks twice in one day, wagged their heads and wondered how such a ball club ever made its way into first place. Some New York fans wonder, too, as the Giants' six-game lead slowly melts to the size of an ice cube.

Failure of Bill Voiselle to stay close to his early pace has been the most damaging blow. After winning eight straight, the husky righthander limped home empty-handed in his last six starts. And his celebrated 2 and 0 pitch to Johnny Hopp, which cost the Giants a ball game and cost Voiselle 500 cluckers, has not added to the club's peace of mind. To say it quickly, the Giants have the jitters.

The Yankee balloon was badly punctured when Johnny Lindell swapped his baseball pants for Army britches. This leaves the erstwhile Bombers with an outfield of Martin, Derry and McInnis, and an aching memory of the old DiMaggio-Keller-Henrich combine which once graced the Stadium. More and more it appears Marce Joe must bank on pitching to outlast the Tigers, Browns and others. This is a departure from the old custom which found the Yanks booming away with an occasional big inning to ease the hurler's burden.

Asked just how much Lindell's loss would affect his chances, McCarthy held up a weary hand and said:

"If talking about it would bring Johnny back, I'd be willing to sit here all night and discuss it. But it won't help and I'd be much obliged if you wouldn't even mention it."

And he trudged through the clubhouse tunnel to his seat in the dugout.

Lockbourne Base Wins
COLUMBUS, June 22.—The baseball team from Memphis, Tenn., Naval Air training center yesterday suffered its first defeat in 18 starts against service opposition. Lockbourne Army Air Base turned the trick, 5 to 4, in the first game of a twin bill.

In the nighttime, Lockbourne shut out Lancaster All-Stars, 5 to 0, as Lieut. Rupert Cornelius, flyer pitcher, tossed a one-hitter.

Salem Soldier Completes Athletic Course In Italy
Sergt. H. Ray Schaefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Schaefer, R. D. 1, Salem, recently completed a course in coaching at Central Sports school in Rome, Italy, sponsored by Special Service, Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

Students attending the school will serve as instructors and coaches in Army athletic programs. Classes are held in gymnasiums and stadiums once used by Mussolini to train Fascist troops. Immediately upon completion of the course men are returned to their outfits to begin expansion of the units' athletic programs.

Sergt. Schaefer is a graduate of Georgetown college, class of 1938, Georgetown, Ky., and at the time of his joining the Army was teaching and coaching at Augusta High school, Augusta, Ky. He is a physical education director in squadrons athletics with the 23rd Photo Squadron.

Overseas 23 months, Sergt. Schaefer wears the Good Conduct ribbon and the Mediterranean Theater Ribbon with six Battle Participation Stars.

Ike Saw Everything—Except the Ball Game

General Dwight Eisenhower wanted to see a ball game so they took him to the Polo Grounds. But first he has to meet a couple of waves...

Fans clamor for a salute so Ike gives it to them. By now he has abandoned all hopes of keeping his own scorecard on Giants-Braves game...

Well, at least he gets a chance to watch one pop foul. When Braves' Nick Culler hit homer Ike was being introduced to New York officials...

Ike settles to watch the game—and then it rained. Oh, well, maybe he'll see one some day on neighborhood lot at Abilene, Kansas.

BOUDREAU METING OUT FINES TO MEN

Penalizes Three for Lack Of Interest In Team's Playing

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 22.—Lou Boudreau, manager of the slipping Cleveland Indians, today announced he had fined three players for lack of interest in the team's playing.

The youthful pitcher, said he would probably revise the Tribe's lineup tonight as Cleveland opposes Chicago in a twilight-night doubleheader in the openers of a 21-game home stand. The Indians dropped their eighth decision in nine games yesterday to the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 1.

He said the only Tribesmen certain to start tonight's games were himself at shortstop, Frank Hayes behind the plate and Pitchers Alie Reynolds and Ed Killeman.

First Tally In Ace

The Indians scored their first run in 20 innings yesterday after Detroit had gained a 5 to 0 lead by belting Jim Bagby from the mound for his eighth loss compared with a single victory. Stubby Overmire coasted to his fifth triumph as the Tigers swept the three-game series.

Don Ross, a former Detroit third baseman, collected three hits in four attempts to lead the Indians. Ross tallied the Redskins' only marker in the ninth when he singled, moved to second on an infield out and scored on Myril Hoag's one-baser.

Earl Henry held the Tigers scoreless in two innings of relief pitching but Detroit put the game on ice with five runs in six innings at Bagby's expense.

Grind Mentor Solves Manpower House Woe

HOUSTON.—The housing shortage didn't balk Coach Jess Neely of Rice Institute when it came to taking care of football players.

Regular dormitory space at Rice was taken over by the Navy, and the Rice coaches found it practically impossible to line up private living quarters near the school.

So Jess is constructing a dormitory on the second deck of the south stands at Rice Stadium. It will take care of from 20 to 30 athletes. There will be beds, showers, study rooms and all other conveniences for the athletes.

"It will be the summer resort of Houston," says Jess. "The wind sure whistles through the southern exposure. If any of the boys don't want to live in those quarters, I'll be glad to move in."

Two Newark Baseballers Fined, Sentenced In Fight

(By Associated Press)

MIDDLETOWN, June 22.—Two members of the Newark team of the Ohio State league were each fined $100 and costs and given jail sentences yesterday following conviction in municipal court on assault and battery charges in connection with the beating of a taxi driver.

The charges against Walter L. Bierer, 20, of Miami, Fla., the team catcher, and Edward Hickman, 21, of Newark, were filed by Mrs. John Tomey, wife of the driver, who said her husband was beaten Wednesday night.

Both ball players pleaded innocent but were convicted by Acting Judge Harry Dell. In addition to the fines, Bierer was sentenced to 90 days in jail, Hickman 30 days.

Autograph Hunter Picks Sad Time To Ask Ott's Signature; Day Team Drops

"WHAT'S HE SO FUSSED UP ABOUT?"

BY AL VERMEER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—A tragic little drama was enacted at Ebbets Field the other day when the Giants finally relinquished the National lead, to which they had clung so desperately since the season started.

It was a ninth-inning rally that had done it and Brooklyn fans, dancing with delight, spilled onto the field. Among them trudged Mel Ott, making the long journey from rightfield to the Giants' dugout.

His eyes were on the ground, but you could feel his thoughts go back to that happy day, only a few weeks before, when the New Yorkers rolled merrily on a 6½ game lead. At that time people were clapping him on the shoulders, telling him they didn't see how the Giants could miss.

Ott shared their optimism. "If we can keep these fellows together we are likely to win it," he exclaimed.

But they couldn't be kept together. Phil Weintraub went out with an injury, Nap Reyes was stricken with flu and finally Bill Voiselle, winner of eight straight, failed for the seventh time to catch that elusive ninth victory.

And now, on this day in Brooklyn, the Giants had come crashing out of the lead and Ott was walking slowly through the jubilant mob. A man ran up and shoved a piece of paper into his face.

"Say! Can I have your autograph?" the man asked.

He was a middle-aged, too big a boy to pursue such child play, and Ott's head jerked up with surprise. This was comparable to rushing onto the stage and asking an opera singer for her signature just after she skidded on a high note.

SANTA ANITA HAS LIMITED ENTRIES

Field Down to Eight Before Track Derby To Be Run Saturday

ARCADIA, Calif., June 22.—The lineup for the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby was shrinking today, with indications that only eight colts would face the barrier tomorrow against the nation's top filly, Busher.

Sea Sovereign, Charles S. Howard's rapidly improving son of the great Seabiscuit, was regarded as the chief threat to movie man Louis B. Mayer's Busher. The Mexican thunderbolt, Checkerhall, also was held in high favor on the basis of his races in Mexico City last winter.

Already winner of $100,000, Busher would pick up $38,100, minus trainer and groom's awards, by capturing the Derby. If she wins convincingly she may go out after Thumbs Up, Gay Dalton, Brice A. Brac and other older horses a week from Saturday in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. In that big race the likely favorite, Thumbs Up, with 130 pounds, would be spotting her 16 pounds.

Lost Only Two
Mayer's prize filly has lost only twice in her racing career and hasn't been whipped as a three-year-old.

Trainer Bud Stotler of Sea Sovereign has chosen Ferrell Zuleit as pilot, but George Woolf is back from the east under the impression he's to be in the saddle. Final decision awaits the return later today of Owner Howard. If he backs up Stotler, Woolf probably will be aboard J. Kel Houshels' Byemebond, which was the pacemaker in the Kentucky Derby but finished sixth.

Jay Paley's Good Effort, one of the well-liked contenders, will go coupled with W. W. Crenshaw's Valdina Streak because Graceton Philpot trains both horses.

One of the largest horses in training is Charles S. Howard's Civil Code, 5-year-old gelding. He measures 17 hands 1½ inches.

State College, Pa., With the head coach and his replacement in the service, Penn State is without a wrestling coach.

JAY-TEEN SPORTS SET-UP TO BEGIN

All members of the Salem Jay-Teen interested in athletics and an organized Youth Center sports program are requested to meet in the Jay-Teen rooms in the Arbaugh building at 8 p. m. Monday.

Explanation of the present baseball set-up and planned tennis, basketball and other sporting events is to be made, President Moine Halterman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today.

Arrangements are being completed for moving pictures and a speaker—either a big league baseball scout or a professional basketball player—to entertain the youngsters. The speaker is not yet obtained, but Halterman said an announcement would be made Monday.

Coach Still Hankers For 3-Point Rulings

ROME, Italy.—Howard Hobson, University of Oregon basketball coach on leave of absence to serve as an athletic consultant in the Mediterranean Theater's Central Sports school here, believes at least three things are detrimental to present-day basketball.

"These three things are the zone defense, the one-hand shot and the tall men who are used principally for their height and not because they have any court talent," Hobson asserts.

Hobson hopes he will see his proposed plan used to score three points for a goal shot from beyond a half-circle extending 21 feet in all directions from the basket. If this scoring plan is not accepted, Hobson suggests that the free throw lane be widened and that other restrictions be added to "keep the big boys from hugging the basket and batting in erring shots while the little fellows stand helplessly by."
